

Intimate Partner Violence (IPV) in Uganda — 8-Week Field Phase

This document outlines the operational and management components of the eight-week field phase of the Uganda IPV project. The structure reflects WHO-aligned project execution standards emphasizing ethics, logistics, and M&E integration.

Phase 1: Pre-Field Preparation (Week 1)

Training of field enumerators on GBV ethics, safety, and data collection; finalization of logistics, translations, and community awareness campaigns.

Phase 2: Quantitative Data Collection (Weeks 2–8)

Administration of structured surveys across all 112 districts, ensuring real-time monitoring for data quality and completeness.

Phase 3: Qualitative Data Collection (Weeks 3–7)

In-depth interviews conducted with 50 community members, health workers, and NGO representatives.

Phase 4: Data Processing (Weeks 2–8)

Daily verification, coding, manual data entry, and unique ID assignment for respondent anonymity.

Phase 5: Analysis & Reporting (Week 8 and Post-Field)

Execution of statistical analyses (bivariate and multivariate), report drafting, and dissemination preparation.

Quality Assurance

- Real-time monitoring using Excel dashboards and weekly reporting.
- Supervisor validation of 10% of interviews for consistency.
- Secure data storage and anonymization in compliance with WHO ethical standards.

Conclusion

The field phase illustrates the translation of project planning into action. The emphasis on structured monitoring, risk control, and ethical adherence provides a replicable model for GBV field programs in similar contexts.
